Has a party of automobile folks come in here since eight o'clock he asked of the man at the desk. Yes, replied the clerk, turning over one page of the big book. The boys hearts gave a sort of jerk-it must be their girls, of course. Have they registered went on Jack. Were there three cars, and a number of girls The man looked down the list of names. Here they are, he said, indicating some fresh writing on the page. Jack scanned it eagerly. Then he looked at Ed and Walter. Not them! he almost gasped. We have got to turn back! Make sure they have not come in, and are on some porch, said Ed. They may not have had a chance to get into the office. But all inquiries failed to give any clue to the lost party, and, without waiting for any refreshments, the almost exhausted young men cranked up their muddy cars, and started off again over the very road they had just succeeded in safely covering. We've got...
