Excerpt from Exercises for Writing German: According to the Rules of Grammar A volume that children will delight to read. Athenaeum, Feb. 16, 1839. It is with no common satisfaction that we introduce to our readers this little book - a book which is the very best adapted to fill, occupy, and fascinate the leisure hours of the young. Atlas, Jan. 20, 1839. We know of no book which we should be more apt to select as a present for a young person in whom we might feel interested. Chambers Journal. We have read this book as if it were some fairy chronicle of boyish days of our own, and have closed it with a sigh for the memory of those brief but sweetest pleasures which boyhood only knows. Examiner, April 6, 1839. The style is healthy and animated, and I sufficiently plain to meet the capacity of buys at school; whilst the numerous lively incidents, and the various congenial topics introduced, will rivet his attention, and afford him a wide field for gratification. Conservative, Jan. 20, 1839....
