Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Liturgical Services Containing Prayers, Ancient and Modern: For Use in the Churches This Book of Devotions is offered in the hope that it may be a help to pastors in their efforts to enrich the services of the Lord s house. While free prayer must ever be regarded as indispensable to the completeness of the worship of assemblies of Christian people, especially as adapting that worship to local and national conditions as they arise, yet liturgical forms of prayer, moving in the region of common human necessities, are undoubtedly not only justifiable but helpful. A single stereotyped service, repeated over and over again, can scarcely escape the charge of contributing to formality. Yet the mind seems to demand a certain degree of familiarity such as is secured by a variety of services, controlled by the same ideas and following the same order; for there is a logical order for public worship. This seems to be that which is observed in this book. Five services are arranged, to include: I. Invocation (or Invitation to Worship). II. The Prayer of Confession of Minister and People, which may be offered responsively or not. III. The Declaration of Divine Mercy (by the Minister, with no trace of priestly absolution in it). IV. The Word op Adoration (from the people), to be said or sung. V. Prayers. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
