Excerpt: . . . gold of my own doctrines in a fellow-heap o dust. He was chiselin desolation through a piece of apple-pie, When he paused an gazed upon us, with a tear in his off-eye, And said, Oh happy family!--your joys they make me sad! They all the time remind me of the dear ones once had! A babe as sweet as this one; a wife almost as fair; A little girl with ringlets--like that one over there. But had I not neglected the means within my way, Then they might still be living, and loving me to-day. One night there came a tempest; the thunder-peals were dire; The clouds that marched above us were shooting bolts of fire; In my own house I lying, was thinking, to my blame, Mow little I had guarded against those bolts of flame, When crash!--through roof and ceiling the deadly...
